Planning Group Holds Meeting

The joint planning commission of the City of Grayling and the Township of Grayling held their regular monthly meeting at the Grayling Township Hall Monday evening. Feeling with them was Zane Miller representing Williams and Works, consulting engineers who have been retained by the commission.

Final work was done on a preliminary application for planning the area which will be submitted to the State of Michigan for approval. When this approval is received a more extensive application is made to the Federal Home and Housing Authority which if approved will provide two-thirds of the cost of preparing a development plan for the area.

A development plan is being worked on now to assure the orderly growth and development of the area also to be sure that adequate acreage is left for education, recreation use as well as for residential, industrial and commercial. A master plan developed today and approved by the citizens will insure a fine community for those to come after.

Deer Opener "Very Good"

The opening weekend of 1963 deer season in Crawford County was termed "Very Good," despite unseasonable weather. The lack of a ground cover of snow, undoubtedly hurt the hunting from one respect, tracking, but it also allowed the hunters to easily penetrate deep into the public hunting areas on trail roads whose surface was as good as summertime.

At several clubs in the county, the number of bucks hung from the game poles was equal to and in some cases more than last year. The number of hunters in the country seemed to be even higher than last year.

A number of arrests were made over the opening weekend by Conservation officers, although the number was not as high as in some years. Justice of the Peace Olin Williamson of Grayling said that he had heard about a normal number of cases for the first few days.

The unlawful act that seemed to be most frequent was the failure to secure the tag on a deer effectively. Hunters tagged on this violation appeared to be attempting one of two things. Either to get their deer home, remove the tag and return to hunt again or to remove the tag and place on a better or bigger deer if successful.

One hunter succumbed to a heart attack in the county. He was Michael Robinson, 32, of Saline. He was found by his two sons near their hunting cabin in the county when they returned from hunting late Friday afternoon. The remains were taken to Sorenson Funeral Home in Grayling and later transferred to Saline.

No reports of any deer hunter being wounded in the county were received by Sheriff Arthur Clough over the opening weekend. Four hunters were reported lost to the sheriff's office. All four were found in a short time without incident.

The Sheriff's department was kept very busy over the weekend, however, in delivering emergency messages to deer hunters all over the county.

Banquet Honors Football Players

The Grayling High School gymnasium was the scene of the annual varsity football banquet. Eighty-five people sat down to a complete turkey dinner, which included roast turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, dressing, cole slaw, vegetables, cranberries, pickles, rolls, cake and beverages. The tables were placed in the shape of a letter E, with the parents on one side, guests on the other, the varsity boys in the middle, and the speakers' table forming the backbone of the E. The Viking colors, green and white, provided the color theme of the table settings, with miniature football players in the center. At the varsity table a huge cake patterned after the football field with the players in action was the centerpiece.

Before the banquet was served, each mother of a player was pleasantly surprised when her son pinned a big football mumm to her shoulder. Mr. Stripe was asked to say grace, and then everyone sat down to a delicious meal.

After the banquet presentation of silver footballs was made to each boy, and to honorary co-captain Dr. Stanley Stealey. These footballs were purchased through funds donated by the townspeople. Another surprise for the evening was presentation to Coach Don Ferguson by the team of a beautiful cashmere sweater, and to Coach Arthur Thayer of pair of fur-lined leather gloves. When all the presentations were completed, Coach W. Fleet of East Jordan gave a wonderful talk, praising the boys highly for their outstanding work this year. Master of Ceremonies Lewis Stillwagon then congratulated the team and gave a quick rundown of the 1963 football season, concluding the program.

Following the banquet, the football team journeyed to Mercy Hospital where one of their members, Ronnie Lovell, was staying, and there presented Ronnie his silver football and a bouquet of football mums.

The sum of $62 was collected by Mrs. Robert Sorenson after the dinner was the start of a fund for a new electric scoreboard for the football field.

The mothers sponsoring the football banquet this year were Mrs. Robert Lovell, Mrs. C. M. Harney, Mrs. Bill Joseph, Mrs. Sandy Thompson, Mrs. Floyd SanCartier, Mrs. Harry Young, Mrs. Robert Sorenson, Mrs. Jack Millikin, Mrs. Lewis Stillwagon, Mrs. Devere Dawson and Mrs. Chester Johnston, also Coach and Mrs. Don Ferguson and Coach and Mrs. Art Thayer.

Those donating money for the banquet were Tom Welsh, John Stampfli, The Grayling Reel Co., Jansen Plumbing, the Grayling Lumber, Knibb's Service, Dick Dodge, Bob Kelly, Spike's Keg O' Nails, Weaver's Gifts, Sandy Thompson, Post Oil Co., Chic Shoppenagons Motor Hotel, Peter Sonnen Hardware, Baringer's, Sam Gust, Melvin Nielson, Larry Mc-

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

Crawford County was also one of forty Michigan counties to have enough snowfall last year to qualify for snow removal funds. The County Road Commission is to receive $13,713. Snowfall in the county last year was an average of 103 inches. Deepest in the state was 168 average inches in Keweenaw County. The most average snowfall in the Lower Peninsula was Benzie County with 134 inches.

To qualify for Snow Removal Funds, counties must have at least 70 inches of snow the previous winter. Distribution of the money is based on a complicated snowfall, mileage and snowfall contour formula.

Snowfall measurements are made at one or more U.S. Weather Bureau stations in every Michigan county.

Session Seeks More Jobs

PETOSKEY — State and federal officials will meet with industrialists and civic leaders of Emmet, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Crawford and Otsego Counties here December 3rd and 4th to discuss means of creating more jobs in this area.

Announcement of the regional meeting was made today by Merle Lutz, Manager of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce.

"Fullest use of local, state and federal resources for economic expansion will be discussed," Mr. Lutz said. "The meeting is designed to acquaint local economic development groups of the assistance available to governmental units and to industry. It will serve to coordinate efforts directed toward attracting new industry, encouraging present industry to expand and inviting investment which will lead to more employment opportunities."

The December 3rd session will be held at the Perry-Davis Hotel at 7:30 p.m. It will be a presentation of state and federal services available to local groups, industries and communities. The December 4th program will be an all-day session devoted to personal interviews of area residents with representatives of state and federal agencies.

William T. Jewell, Jr., Detroit, regional field director for ARA, will serve as chairman. Resource persons participating in the meeting and available for interviews will be Leeland M. Uhl and Arne Ervast, of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion; John Hodge, Petoskey district extension agent; Ben Schenck, Northern Michigan ARA field representative, Area Redevelopment Administration; Douglas McGarry, Detroit, Small Business Administration; and a representative of the Economic Expansion and Technical Assistance Center of Central Michigan University.

The two-day session, sponsored by the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce and the Emmet County ARA Committee, is for county extension agents, ARA committees, industrialists and all interested in economic development.

ONE INJURED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

One man was injured in a one car accident last Wednesday night on M-144 in the southeast part of the county. Cliff B. Shaw, 52, of Pontiac, driver of the car involved suffered a head injury and was taken to Grayling Mercy Hospital.

Shaw told Sheriff Arthur Clough who investigated that he was blinded by the lights on an oncoming car and went across the road and struck a tree. Arthur R. Daly, also of Pontiac, a passenger in the car escaped injury.

Sheriff Clough investigated another one car accident on M-144 west of Grayling last Sunday. The driver, John J. Blocher of Woodland, Michigan, stated that a deer ran out of the woods and directly into the side of his car. The driver escaped injury as did his passenger, Mitzy Blocher also of Woodland.

GRADE SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRESS

A meeting was held at the proposed site of the new grade school on Tuesday, Oct. 29, to review construction progress to date and scheduling. Those present were R. L. Dercher and S. Mathe of the Consolidated Construction Co., R. Kennedy and L. Kareus of Demming Plumbing and Heating, R. Peterson of the Daverman Company and Supt. Joseph Stripe and Sandy Thompson of the Grayling School Board.

It was noted the project is proceeding rapidly and well on schedule. Contractors reported there were no serious problems presently which might tend to delay construction.

Masonry for both sections "A" and "B" is currently in progress. Sec. "A" interior block walls and exterior brick masonry is being done simultaneously. Sec. "B" exterior masonry is currently underway.

Interior sand fill is completed with a quantity of fill also placed outside the building area.

Underground rough-in of sanitary and storm lines within the building area is approximately 85 per cent complete.

Electrical underfloor rough-in, along with wall rough-in as required, is proceeding satisfactorily.

The new 18' storm main, which circuits the new structure on the south, is approximately 70 per cent complete and in progress.

The Mechanical Contractor reports the City has requested a manhole installed in the 8" sanitary main between the building and the street in lieu of the clean-out currently required in accordance with the plans, which would cause additional cost.

It was noted there will be a clean-out in the sewer main just outside the building wall in addition to the clean-out in question at the sewer transition.

The architects are to investigate further the need of a manhole at the location in question and report to the owner.

The General Contractor reports steel joist delivery is contemplated approximately Nov. 15. It is expected the major portion of masonry bearing walls will be ready for joists at that time.

The Mechanical Contractor reports the boiler will be released for shipment immediately upon the suppliers receipt of approved shop drawings.

The next meeting date was set for Tuesday, Nov. 26, 1963, at 10:30 A. M.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Grayling Woman's Club met Monday evening at the clubhouse.

Mrs. John Latzuk introduced the speaker, Mr. Harold Anderson, Assistant District Manager of the Social Security office in Traverse City. Social security advocates pay now and get later, which is contrary to the trend today of buy now and pay later. Questions to keep in mind are, when can one expect Social Security? how much? what does it cost? and which form has about loss of income? Things to remember are, when you are at retirement age, whether sick or injured, if worker dies, and when you are 72 years old... A question and answer period followed.

Funeral services were held at 6 o'clock Sunday, November 17, at the Frederic Baptist church, with the Rev. Ernest Lautt officiating. Mrs. Paul Henion, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Norval Stephan, who sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "In the Sweet By and By."

Burial was in the Frederic Oakwood Cemetery, with Mrs. Smith's grandsons, Duane Sheldon, Jack Smith, Henry Stephan, Robert Stephan, Charles Stephan and Lawrence Stephan, serving as pallbearers.

Survivors are four sons, Laurence of Flint, Clyde of Maple Forest, Henry of Frederic and Marvin of Winn, two daughters, Mrs. Hazel Sheldon of Otsego and Mrs. Eva Stephan of Grayling; a sister, Lena Wagner of Portland, Oregon; fifteen grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

President Mrs. Glen Fenton presided at the business meeting. Co-chairs Mrs. Earl Burns and Mrs. Carl E. Johnson will announce plans shortly for the annual Golden Age party to be held in December. New members introduced were Mrs. Art Carlson, Mrs. Maurile Raymond, Mrs. Emma Knibbs and Mrs. Harry Sorenson. Special guests were Mrs. Holger Schmidt, honorary member, and Mrs. Holger Hanson. System Of Scarcity . . .

New accounts periodically tell of shortages, some critical, of consumer goods in the Soviet Union. As a matter of official dictate, rationing for most goods was formally abolished some time ago, but in many instances it still seems to be in effect. And prices, aside from those charged for basic necessities, are inordinately high by American standards.

Communism's troubles in this regard are attributed to a variety of causes. Bad weather conditions have produced crop shortages, for one. And, for another, the emphasis has long been on heavy industry — including, above all, the war industries — as against the light industries which produce consumer wants.

Such elements as these have, without doubt, played a role in communism's troubles at home. But they are not unique to the Soviet Union or her satellites. We, and the other advanced Western nations, also have suffered disasters from weather. We too have concentrated on heavy industry. But, at the same time, we have managed to satisfy consumer wants in almost boundless abundance.

Why have we succeeded, where communism has so far failed? The answer lies in the contrasting systems. And we see an example of that contrast here at home every day of our lives, in the retail stores we patronize. They must compete vigorously, even fiercely, for consumer favor. The demands the consumer makes upon them are reflected in their orders to the factories, and so determine what those factories produce. They stock what people want — not what some dictator thinks they should have. And they offer it at prices which honestly reflect costs involved — not prices which a bureaucracy establishes by order.

In the communist nations the stores — like every other facet of their economies — either are the property of government or are dominated by government. Competition, in the real sense, does not exist. The system which produced this situation is a system of scarcity.

"The Place To Economize"

The danger of steadily boosting federal spending was emphasized repeatedly during House debate on continuing the present $309 billion debt ceiling through November, with another increase to something approaching $320 billion in prospect then.

Representative Herlong (D-Fla.) pointed out that the place to economize is when the authorization and appropriation bills are before us, not after the fact when the bills come in."

"I have not voted," he explained, "for those things that made this debt limit as high as it is, and I shall continue to vote against those things that I think are, or will result in, unnecessary government expenditures."

The country sorely needs more legislators who think and act this way.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

Chevrolet Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan

Now how are the high-priced cars going to explain this!

Here are looks, luxury and comfort that you'd expect to set you back plenty—if they came from anybody but the people at Chevrolet.

Fresh-minted styling with clean uncluttered lines that give the '64 Jet-smooth Chevrolet its feeling of new length and lowness. Rich new interiors with supple fabrics. Foam-cushioned front and rear seats and door-to-door carpeting—now standard in all models, including the modestly-priced Biscaynes. And, of course, the niceties of Body by Fisher craftsmanship.

You've got a wealth of power to pick from—engines from a peppy 140-hp 6 to a 425-hp V8*! And you've got the '64 Jet-smooth ride to cushion you from road noise and vibration.

Been promising yourself luxury like this someday? Your someday is here, as your dealer will gladly show you. • optional at extra cost.

M.E.A. For Teacher Tenure

LANSING — Interest in tenure is mounting in Michigan. The Michigan Education Ass'n., through its local affiliates is spearheading a drive for state wide tenure in Michigan.

Final decision in the matter rests with citizens of small school districts, situated throughout the state, who are being asked to support the drive. "Success of our efforts will depend largely upon what local people understand about tenure," states C. M. Novak, MEA Region 14 tenure chairman.

He states, "Tenure is an expression of confidence by the community in its public school teaching and administrative staffs. It assures a teacher or administrator, who has rendered efficient service to the community, that he will have the right to continue to teach.

There are many reasons why tenure should be adopted in a community; all of them are related to increased good for the children being taught.

Common sense dictates that a contented teacher, will pass on this enthusiasm to his students. Tenure gives the teacher a larger share in the future of his community by assuring him that he will always be welcome as long as he continues to give efficient service.

Teachers can thus buy homes in the community and can otherwise become better acquainted with the pupils and parents and take a more active part in community life.

Teachers are one of the greater potential sources of leadership in a community and, in general, have had more training in group dynamics than most citizens. This potential leadership will be more fully used under a system with tenure.

Teachers of a community's youth need to be selected with great care to insure the maximum benefit in education to the boys and girls. Under tenure, initial selection of teachers and a more penetrating analysis of personal and professional qualifications of teachers will be more carefully carried out than is presently thought to be the case.

Communities have more confidence in a school system if teacher turnover is small, which is generally the case under tenure. Then, too, the children benefit if they can be assured of competent teachers throughout their school years.

Tenure brings the stability necessary to continue educational growth because it frees teachers from the fear of small pressure groups and gives them larger freedom in which to teach."

Questions about tenure can be directed to Art Thayer, President of the Grayling Education Ass'n. or the Michigan Education Ass'n., 935 N. Washington, Lansing.

BITS O' TALK

Yn3 Joe Lowe arrived home Tuesday, the 12th on a 17-day leave from his navy base at Norfolk, Va. Joe had spent five months in the Mediterranean area and managed some sightseeing, stopping at Palermo and Siracusa, Sicily, Naples, Italy, Cannes, France, and taking a two-day tour in the French Alps, also visiting Athens and Rhodes, Greece, and stopping at Rota and Barcelona, Spain, seeing a bullfight at the latter city.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fenton and daughter Nancy, Barbara Crouch and Roy Wedge, Jr. were in Mt. Pleasant Saturday, the 9th to attend the Central Michigan U. Homecoming football game, and visited their daughters Donna and Carol Fenton. Mrs. Harold MacNeven returned home Monday, November 11th after a very enjoyable visit with her daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. Larry Frymire and children, Sally, Janet and Freddie in Arlington, Virginia. RECIPE FOR SUCCESS

The successful chef knows his business from A to Z. The "perfect" meal begins with proper planning and preparation, continues through cooking, serving, eating. Everything must be "just right."

The successful local merchant also follows a set of rules. He plans carefully, to assure that he has the items his local customers need and want.

He follows through by presenting this merchandise in an effective and pleasing manner, through meat display and in-store arrangements. He adds a liberal amount of friendly and courteous service and then tops it off with a guarantee of complete satisfaction.

If you haven't shopped local stores lately, we urge you to do so. You may be surprised at the excellent job our merchants do — anticipating our needs and making sure the things we want are available, when we want them.
